

Divo

Orlandini Design

Divo expresses the evolution of modular waiting chairs as well as a new way to work in the office. We need to be comfortable when working at our PC, to attend virtual or real meetings, in situations that are different from a typical meeting room, and these versatile modular chairs make our life much easier. High and low backrests provide different levels of privacy, depending on your specific needs, besides allowing to be combined with different kinds of worktops.

Small ancillary worktops, self-supporting and easily movable, complete this collection to meet the functional needs of agile work.
